

College of Engineering

In order to recognize individuals and emphasize the significance of their professional contributions and dedicated service to their profession, the College of Engineering at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, Kentucky, established the University of Kentucky Engineering Hall of Distinction. It is the objective of the Hall of Distinction to provide recognition for its alumni whose distinguished careers have contributed to, or reflect credit on, the various academic programs in the College and the University.

The individual must be an engineering or computer science graduate, and must satisfy all the following criteria:

- (1) Established an outstanding professional record;
- (2) Demonstrated distinguished service to his/her profession;
- (3) Established a personal reputation at either the local, state, national, or international level for outstanding character and community service for a period of time sufficient in length to reflect without reservation great credit and honor upon the University;
- (4) Be an outstanding role model for the current College of Engineering students; and
- (5) Not be a current University employee.

Please submit the nomination, either self-nominated or by an individual, to the University of Kentucky College of Engineering Alumni and Philanthropy office no later than August 1.
Nominees will be contacted by December 31 if chosen.
